Overview of SA/DV Victim Services Funding in Wisconsin

The Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) funds victim service providers across Wisconsin; services provided under this program include safety planning, community service referrals, counseling, crisis intervention and legal advocacy.

Programs are expecting devastating VOCA cuts beginning in October 2024.

- Currently the DOJ awards $44.5 million per year.
- Beginning 10/24 the DOJ will only be able to award $13 million per year. This will be the next competitive VOCA cycle for programs. That will be a 3-year grant cycle.
- That is a 70% reduction in the amount DOJ will be awarding for VOCA beginning on 10/1/24.
- DOJ is expecting they will have to have a cap of $250k on grant awards for programs.

Sexual assault and Domestic Abuse Services Funding

- The Sexual Assault Victim Services (SAVS) Grant Program, administered by the Wisconsin Department of Justice (DOJ), is the only state program that funds sexual violence prevention initiatives and direct services for survivors and their families. The DV services program administered through the Department of Children and Families (DCF) is the only state program that funds domestic violence prevention initiatives.
- SAVS is currently funded at $2.235 million annually, DV services are currently funded at $12.4 million annually. Those funding levels have been relatively static for the past decade.
- The static nature of funding has been a barrier to expanding culturally specific programs, who are providing services to Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC) survivors, often without adequate funding.
- Even at existing levels, SAVS and DV Services funding do not meet the needs of survivors in Wisconsin. With the expected reductions in VOCA funding, now is the time for Wisconsin to make an investment in sexual and domestic violence services and prevention.
- Increases for both DV and SA funding were included in the Governors 23/25 executive budget. Unfortunately, those increases were removed in the final budget adopted by the legislature.

Program-Specific Information (see below for some suggested topics for talking about the importance of funding, please use them as you see fit)

Funding:

What cuts are you projecting?

What are the expected cuts in funding going to mean for your program/services? For survivors?

What would an increase in funding mean for your program? For survivors?

Programs not currently receiving state and/or federal funding:

How is your program currently funded?

What would accessing state funding mean for your program?

- Funding the work you are currently doing.
- Increasing your ability to reach those disproportionately impacted by sexual and domestic violence.
- Increasing your ability to focus on prevention.

Our ask:

Please vote yes on SB877/AB940 to increase funding for sexual assault, domestic violence, and child advocacy services.

Why that dollar amount?

- 7 million increase per year for SAVS for the current biennium (as requested by DOJ)
- 7 million increase per year for DV funding for the current biennium (requested in Gov. Budget)
- 22 million for fiscal year 24 (estimated impact of the VOCA cuts on DV/SA programs)
